U.S.-JAPAN RELATIONS AFTER OPPENHEIMER SECURITY, SOCIETY & ECONOMY

SEP 30 9:30-11:30 AM CST

Delve into the major developments of U.S.-Japan relations from 1945 to present and gain insight into how “Japan-specific” content can be used to raise awareness of social issues faced by American students.

Topics include: Japanese geopolitics with a focus on changing U.S.-China and U.S.-Russia relationships; Japan’s role in the global supply chain; and the impact of energy policy on Japanese security.
